Work On Local Canals Next On Planned Construction

"It's a matter of education with local folks, with County folks, and with Florida folks as well as with the National Congress," has for some time been an opinion of students of the $200,000,000 Overall Flood Control Program.

In recent months more than 40 Congressmen have visited the area and most of them by plane to see from a bird's-eye point just what this flood control program really is. Some have been given an on-the-ground inspection after getting the whole plan in mind from the air.

One particular group were members of the Public Works Committee and of the Appropriations Committee, and according to their own statements received a "completely new impression of the project."

So closely arrayed are present prizes and the big cash bonus leaders, in fact, it depends largely upon individual efforts of contenders and untiring support of loyal friends during the balance of this week — while MAXIMUM schedule of votes issued on subscriptions is still in effect — as to who will ultimately be winners of major

I Speak For Democracy

Sixteen-year-old Elizabeth Ellen Evans of Bechtel High School Akron, Ohio was a national winner in a Chamber of Commerce contest on the subject "I Speak For Democracy". This young girl, for her efforts for Liberty, Freedom and she is arranging for her to appear the second time on

By ELIZABETH ELLEN EVANS

I am an American. Listen to my words, Fascist, Communist. Listen well, for my country is a strong country, and my message is a strong message. I am an American, and I speak for democracy. My ancestors have left their blood on the green at Lexington and the snow at Valley Forge. On the walls of Fort Sumter and the fields at Gettysburg. On the waters of the River Marne and in the shadows of the Argonne Forest. On the beaches of Salerno and Normandy and the sands of Okinawa. On the bare, bleak hills called Pork Chop and Old Baldy and Heartbreak Ridge. A million and more of my countrymen have died for freedom. My country is their eternal monument. They live on in the laughter of a small boy as he watches a circus clown's antics. And in the sweet, delicious coldness of the first bite of peppermint ice cream on the Fourth of July. In the little tenseness of a baseball crowd as the umpire calls "Batter up!" and in the high school band's rendition of "Stars and Stripes Forever" in the Memorial Day parade. In the clear, sharp ring of a school bell on a fall morning. And in the triumph of a six-year-old as he reads aloud for the first time. They live on in the eyes of an Ohio farmer surveying his acres of corn and potatoes and pasture. And in the brilliant gold of hundreds of acres of wheat stretching across the flat miles of Kansas. In the milling of cattle in the stockyards of Chicago. The precision of an assembly line in an automobile factory in Detroit. And the perpetual red glow of the nocturnal skyline of Pittsburgh and Birmingham and Gary. They live on in the voice of a young Jewish boy saying the sacred words from the Torah: "Hear O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy might." And in the voice of a Catholic girl praying: "Hail, Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee." And in the voice of a Protestant boy singing: "A mighty fortress is our God, A Bulwark never failing."

his "Voice of Freedom" hour on radio and television on Monday evening, March 22nd. Read this and then listen in the young lady: If you like to write her and say so - she's young and impressionable and will never forget this desired accolade of her acclaim, plebeians.

An American named Carl Sandburg wrote these words: "I know a Jew fisher-don on Maxwell Street with a voice like a north wind blowing over corn stubble in January. He dangles herring before prospective customers evincing a joy identical with that of Pavlova dancing. His face is that of a man terribly glad to be selling fish, terribly glad that God made fish, and customers to whom he may call his wares from a pushcart." There is a voice in the soul of every human being that cries out to be free. America has answered that voice. America has offered freedom and opportunity such as no land before her has ever known, to a Jew fisher-don on Maxwell Street with the face of a man terribly glad to be selling fish. She has given him the right to own his pushcart, to sell his herring on Maxwell Street. She has given him an education for his children, and a tremendous faith in the nation that has made these things his. Multiply that fisher-don by 160,000,000 - 160,000,000 mechanics and farmers and housewives and coal miners and truck drivers and chemists and lawyers and plumbers and priests - all glad, terribly glad to be what they are, terribly glad to be free to work and eat and sleep and speak and love and pray and live as they believe. And those 160,000,000 Americans - those 160,000,000 free Americans - have more roast beef and mashed potatoes, the yield of American labor and land; more automobiles and telephones, more safety razors and bathtubs, more Orion sweaters and aureomycin, the fruits of American initiative and enterprise; more public schools and life insurance policies, the symbols of American security and faith in the future; more laughter and song - than any other people on earth! This is my answer, Fascist, Communist! Show me a country greater than our country, show me a people more energetic, creative, progressive - bigger-hearted and happier than our people, not until then will I consider your way of life. For I am an American, and I speak for democracy.

A good whiskey's like a gentleman's beard... it sort of grows on you!

Nobody, I figure, ever read a whiskey advertisement and ran hot-foot to the store to switch his brand.

No, Sir—like all friendship—it takes time. You have Schenley at a friend's home, and it tastes right good. One day you buy a bottle yourself. Then pretty soon, you won't settle for anything else.

In fact, making good blended whiskey is a patient process, too. That's what this bourgeois is about. The glass itself represents Nature's unburied goodness. The big "S" stands for Schenley's skill. Together, they make Schenley the best-tasting whiskey in ages.

If you're not a customer already, we hope to have the pleasure soon.

ject, but actually, a flood control undertaking.

The credit for this very effective campaign of education with the National Legislators goes to the Florida Delegation in Washington and to the Board of the Central & Southern Florida District, especially its Chairman.

For the first time in its history the Florida project received the full recommended appropriation by the Budget Committee in the House, and now the Senate has added more than a million actually with the additional authorization to use with full credit to the State, $1,700,000 of State funds.

The total available funds for the fiscal year '55, beginning July 1st, are about $8,000,000 with this combination of appropriations and authorizations.

With work already commenced on Hillsboro east of Hillsboro Plantation, the Twenty-Mile-Bend pumps being installed and L-7 being readied for effective use, by September 1st, the Glades is beginning to feel the results of the program.

In the immediate future the West Palm, the Hillsboro and the North New River Canals will be included in contracts and pumps on the Lake end of the NN River and Hillsboro Canals will be contracted for L-3 will also come in for action, as well as L-8, if the enclosing lake is authorized by the present Congress.

The Hillsboro Canal will be dammed west of the Conservation Area so that water from the Twenty-Mile-Bend pumps will not back up towards the Lake.

There still remains the necessity of more and bigger appropriations to speed the work up and prevent further damage from the uncompleted works now under way.

The Engineers have announced that they are busy with survey crews along the St. Johns River, with two parties out and possibly a third one to be begun shortly.

Information has been gathered in the Kissimmee River Valley and the overall picture of hydraulics, soils and rain fall will be completed it is hoped, sometime the latter part of the year.

DUTY OF YOUTH

By Rev. Robert Bower
Pastor, Church of God

"Remember now thy creator in the days of youth; while the evil days come not nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say I have no pleasure in it." Ecclesiastes 12:1.

The first duty of youth is to remember God, remember him as your creator, and as one who holds your life in his hands. Young men have been known to immortalize their names by dedicating themselves to God.

Joseph who was sold into Egypt at the age of seventeen years, immediately took his stand for God and the right. Under the handicap of slavery he retained his honor. If he had not known Him, we would not have known him today.

He was sold to the Ishmaelites into slavery by his brother Jacob, who purposed in his heart to do right.

This was a good chance for Joseph to backslide. He had several temptations to turn through many hard trials.

The Ishmaelites had bought other young men as slaves but have never known their names. Joseph was determined to serve God and do the right thing. He went down in history as an example of righteousness.

He was so honored by his people that when they left Egypt four hundred and fifty years later they dug up his bones and carried them with them into Canaan.

Youth is the most important part of a person's life. It is a time when life is molded for either good or bad, success or failure, and it then determines their eternal existence.

The virtues and realities of this Christian faith have been passed on and over the centuries to the generations. Those who have dedicated themselves to live a true and honest Christian life have the respect of their friends and neighbors and church.

THIRTEEN THOUSAND

The project is being financed by the farmers themselves, most of whom now own their own land, and are able to finance it.

The plan is to extend this project eventually to the Miami Canal with a good hard surfaced road along the Boles Canal to the Miami Canal.

The district has been approved by the Circuit Court, plans are to flow the canal to finance the project which when completed will give the entire area between the South Florida Canal and the South Florida Canal water control and open up the entire area to farming and other pasturage.

The present plan is to divide the area into four units, each with its own pumping system. There will be two outlets on the North New River Canal and two on the Boles Canal.

Among the property owners pledged to the financing of this project are Arthur Wells, Lawrence E. Will, J. C. Sumner, Baker, The Belle Glade Rock Company, Thurmon Knight, N. Stirling, E. L. Parker, John White and a number of small farmers and owners.

31 PRE-SCHOOLERS TAKE PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

Thirty potential first-graders were given a physical examination by Dr. Kaup, of the County Health Department, assisted by Miss B. I. Rodriguez and Mrs. Harris, lay worker. A PTA Committee consisting of Mrs. Louis Funk, Chairman, Mrs. C. W. Walker and Mrs. J. E. Gambel had canvassed the center previous to the date set for the examinations in order to get a complete list of those children who would enter the Ocala School in September.

The children were examined at the County Health Clinic. Their parents were first interviewed by Miss Ruth Irvin, first grade teacher at the Ocala School, and some of the behavior problems were discussed at this time. The interview will enable Mrs. Irvin to make better plans for the coming year.

Several physical defects were found and discussed with the parents. The parents were urged to get these corrections made before the beginning of the fall year.

Harvey and north shall pass away by my wife and son James. (St. Luke 12:51)

In these anxious days, when the threat of atomic war hangs over the world, it is to be sure in the minds of Christians that the only hope is in our only hope of salvation, Jesus Christ.

Faith of Our Fathers

A Catholic priest ponders religious persecution in England

Father Frederick William Ponder was reared a Protestant, but followed his Oxford classmate, John Henry Newman, to the Catholic faith. In his apostolic church Father missed the known of Wesley, Watts and Cowper. So he determined to write of his own. He didn't know one note from another, and he began by memorizing 14 tunes and writing words to them. In all he wrote 150. In 1848, at age 35, Father was sent to London to convert an old whisky shop into an oratory for a group of fellow priests. His spare time he wrote hymns and reviewed the religious history of England.

It had been 30 years since about 1790 VIII had known no limit of debauchery. After 18 years of marriage to his dead brother's wife Catherine, the first month after the death of the queen's maid of honor, but Anne told him he had to marry her. He was to marry her. So he meant to marry her. But for a king to

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The importance of understanding God and man from the standpoint of spiritual causation will be stressed at Christian Science Services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon "God The Only Cause and Creator" will include the following passage from the King James Version of the Bible:

"For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it: he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else: (Isaiah 45:18-19)

Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following words are read: "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause; (313:32-33).

The Golden Text is from Revelation: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast made all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (4:11).

MEMORIAL DAY IS EVERY SUNDAY SAYS FR. PETRUS IN SERMON

"The neglect of Memorial Day by an ungrateful nation is not surprising," said Father John Charles Petrus last Sunday in his Memorial Day sermon at St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church.

"After all, every Sunday is Memorial Day a day set aside for the thankful remembrance of the voluntary death of the Son of God that mankind might be saved. If the men and women who have given their lives for America would be shocked at our forgetfulness of the price they paid how about Christ and the filmy alibis which baptized Christians try to pass off on their pastors? Let's have done with cheap excuses for missing church; they only lowed in the eyes of the clergy and of God."

Next Sunday, the Feast of Whitsunday or Pentecost, the church will observe the birthday of the Holy Spirit, celebrated at 9 a.m. At 11 a.m. the service and sermon will be broadcast from St. Martin's.
